ok that took forever lmao but yippie I'm done normally I would've put only the clan the protagonist is in and a little bit of the other clans but I'm gonna be writing stuff for other characters in different clans during the same time period so I just decided to get it over with now. This is my first time really writing an oc thing so if u have any advice or criticism then pls tell me I wanna be better at it bcus it's super fun 🏵🏵🏵 -Dawn

Prologue

A sparkling forest surrounded a pale ginger she cat. she stared around in confusion "where am I...?" She muttered to herself when she spotted a starry ginger pelt at the edge of her vision "You're in starclan..." the starclan cat mewed gently. The living cat turned to her "Foxflight? Why am I here? I'm not supposed to be in starclan only the-" She was cut off by a silver tom from behind her "You broke the warrior code Spottedspirit!" The old tom hissed "I-" Spottedspirit struggled to find a response. Foxflight broke between them "Fallenfinch, you know better than anyone how hard this is for her without you here to lecture her!"

Fallenfinch flinched, but then ignored her "Your kits were never meant to exist!" He growled at Spottedspirit and looked at her round belly. Spottedspirit hissed back at him "These kits may have been because a mistake, but I'll make sure they become the best warriors thunderclan has ever seen!" The gray tom narrowed his eyes "They aren't meant to be Thunderclan! It's not their destiny!" "What are you talking about? They're thunderclan too!" She argued. Fallenfinch flattened his ears "Just you wait Spottedspirit, you will be punished for this foolish mistake"
Spottedspirit lashed her tail "what are you gonna do? You're just a dead cat!"

He stared at her "Whatever it takes, I will make sure these kits follow their destiny..."

This is not the best thing I've written tbh I've tried writing a warriors super edition for my oc before and the prologue was shit too so its safe to say I'm terrible at prologues lmao -Dawn

Chapter 1

Brightkit stumbled out of the nursery, followed by his sister, Sandkit. Brightkit looked around the hollow staring in awe as Snakestar emerged out onto highrock. "That's gonna be me on that rock someday!" Sandkit boasted, her green eyes glimmering with hope. Brightkit flattened his ears "Not if I become leader first!" Snakestar overheard the hopeful kits "You both would make fine thunderclan leaders" he purred "but you don't need to fight about it now, you've still got many moons before you can even become an apprentice!" Brightkit stared at his paws in embarrassment while Sandkit lashed her tail impatiently.

They were only two moons old. Sandkit looked at her brother "race you to the camp entrance!" She challenged and then took off. Brightkit took off soon after, trying to catch up, when Sandkit suddenly stopped. Brightkit bumped into her and looked up "Hey what was-" he froze when he saw a riverclan patrol at the entrance, the gross, fishy smell of riverclan filled his nose.

He and Sandpaw ran to the nursery in fear. He curled up in his mother, Spottedspirits, fur while Sandpaw stood in front of her mother, as if she was guarding them from the riverclan cats. "What are they doing here Spottedspirit?!" He wailed. Sandkit looked back at her littermate "obviously they've come to fight! I'm here to protect you guys!" She mewed confidently.

Spottedspirit looked at her daughter "I don't think they're here to fight" she told her gently. "They're not?" Sandkit looked at her quizzically "But why else would a riverclan patrol come to thunderclan?"
"I'm not sure, but it doesn't look like a battle patrol, there's not enough cats" Their mother mewed gently "here, come sit with us Sandkit, you must be hungry after playing with your brother all day." Spottedspirit purred.

Sandkit looked disappointed "But I wanna know what's going on!" She whined. Brightkit was curious too but he didn't want to bother his mother with questions. The pale ginger she cat looked at her kits "I can't tell you what's going on out there, but I can tell you who those cats are" she said. Brightkit and Sandkit looked up at their mother excitedly. She purred "That black tom in the front with the short tail is Loststar, the leader of riverclan, the tom next to him is Mossypatch, their deputy, that white tom is Tallfoot, and that she-cat next to him is Pebblegaze, they're riverclan warriors. Oh! It looks like they're getting ready to leave."

Brightkit saw the riverclan patrol heading out, but Loststars gaze flew over to the nursery and Brightkits eyes met his for a second. He quickly looked away in fear and hoped the riverclan leader had gone. Why did he look over here? he thought with a chill. Yet there was something familiar about his eyes.

wow I think I did pretty good on this one but it's kind of long for jsut one chapter lmao mb I got a little carried away but yeah I'm proud of this x -Dawn

Chapter 2

Brightkit bounded towards the entrance where the battle patrol from sunningrocks came. His father, Bumblecloud was leading the first patrol, his fur was stained with blood and he had blood dripping down his left ear from a nasty scar. Shadowflight, Kestrelrain, Swiftsnout, Rippleblossom, and Amberpaw followed, a look of defeat in their faces.

It had been two moons since riverclan came into thunderclan territory and warned them that they were taking sunningrocks. Spottedspirit bounded across camp next to her kit and whisked him away with her tail "Don't crowd around them, my dear" she whispered as she carried him back to the nursery "They must be exhausted from the big fight..."

"Okay..." Brightkit muttered, discouraged. He peeked out of the nursery to see what was happening and saw Moonfoot leading the second patrol, greif clouding her eyes, Plumbreeze followed, holding a lifeless body in his teeth. Brightkit flinched as he recognized Acornpaws thick tabby brown fur. Hazelshade bounded out of the elders den as Plumbreeze dropped his body in the center of camp "my precious kit!" She wailed. Amberpaw had an expression on his face that Brightkit couldn't describe. Snowpaw looked at her brothers lifeless body in shock, and laid down with her mother. It must be horrible to lose a littermate he thought with a pang of sympathy for Amberpaw and Snowpaw.

He looked at Sandkit I don't know what I'd do if I ever lost her he thought with a chill. Spottedspirit saw her kit staring "He'll be up there, with starclan" she soothed him while he could hear snakestars muffled words outside of the nursery "And he'll always be watching over us, even if he's not here with us" her gentle words and her tail brushing his pelt put him to sleep Brightkit awoke with a claw in his side and saw Sandpaw poking him and nagging him to wake up "Sandpaw?" He hissed "it's so early!What do you want?" Sandpaw looked at him "Snakestars calling a meeting!" She hissed "Really? What for?"

"I don't know!" She hissed
She padded out of the nursery, followed by Brightkit.
"Let all cats old enough to catch their own prey, gather beneath the high rock for a clan meeting!" Snakestar called Cats sleepily climbed out of their dens and gathered beneath the highrock "why is he calling a meeting so early?" Dawnberry asked her mate "im not sure" Shadowflight answered "couldn't he have waited a little later?" He growled under his breath. Snakestar looked over his clan "We will take back sunningrocks soon!" He yowled. A few cats yowled in agreement, others were unsure. Snowpaw spoke up "With all due respect Snakestar, you can't seriously be considering fighting again this early!" She argued "Just last night Acornpaw died! And many warriors were ingured! Surely we need more time to recover?" Snakestar looked at her, ears flattened "Acornpaws death gives us more reason to fight!" Snowpaw flinched and stepped back. The crowd was uneasy.

Dawnberry widened her eyes in fear while Shadowflight wrapped his tail around her, Bumblecloud flexed his claws, Amberpaw grined at the thought of battle, Moonfoot looked as if she wanted to speak up, but couldn't. Sandkit tensed up next to him "Snakestar, are you really this mouse -brained!?" Pinewhisker growled, his gray fur sticking up "Leaf bare is near and we don't nearly have enough herbs for more inguries!"
"But-"
"Listen Snakestar! I know you want sunningrocks, but we simply can't risk it!"
Snakestar muttered something angrily under his breath but turned towards the crowd "I promise you thunderclan, we will get sunningrocks, if it's the last thing I do."

Okay it might be a bit early for a death but im really impatient lmao and I didn't know what else to do 💀

Chapter 3

Brightkit's face lit up as he saw his father at the camp entrance, holding a massive thrust in his jaws. "Bumblecloud!" He called to his father and bounded towards him, Sandkit followed "Come play with us!" She mewed. Bumblecloud looked at the two kits "I would love to, but I- uh... I have to go on a patrol!"

"But you just went on one..." Sandkit whined
"Well...ah...being a warrior is busy work!" He chuckled nervously as he padded away. Brightkit frowned. Their father was always too busy to play with them, wether it was a patrol, or a thorn in his pad, he always had an excuse. Maybe he wishes that we weren't his kits... he thought with a pang. "Whatever..." Sandkit sighed "We can just play without him..."
"Aren't you kits a little too old to be playing? You're almost apprentices!" Shadowflight growled from behind him.

Brightkit's pelt grew hot with embarrassment "sorry..." he mewed. Shadowflight rolled his eyes and padded away
"I guess we'll just go back to the nursery then..." Sandkit hissed. Brightkit followed her to the nursery "What's the matter?" Dawnberry asked as the kits. She had moved into the nursery recently expecting Shadowflight's kits. Sandkit pouted "Shadowflight told us we're too old to play Kit games because we're almost apprentices..."

"Oh dear...." Dawnberry said "He's a good cat, he just doesn't know how to deal with kits..." she purred. Spottedspirit licked her daughters fur "aren't you excited to be an apprentice?" Sandkit jumped up at the idea "Yeah! I'll get to learn how to hunt and how to fight and how to be the best Thunderclan warrior ever!" She lashed her tail "and I'll be able to fight those riverclan fox-hearts!" Spottedspirit chuckled "what about you Brightkit?" She asked him "Yeah, I can't wait!" He purred "I'll be able to see the territory! And explore it!"

Brightkit woke up to see a white blanket of snow covering the camp. Sandkit bounded out of the camp "cmon Brightkit! Let's go see the snow!" Brightkit hesitated I've never seen snow before... Sandkit jumped into the snow and ran around in it "Brightkit come here, It's super fun!!" Brightkit slowly stepped into the snow and then bounced after his sister. "I didn't expect it to be so soft!" Brightkit purred.

"Let all cats old enough to catch their own prey, gather beneath the highrock for a clan meeting!" Brightkit perked his head up at the sound of Snakestars voice. "Leafbare is here, which means we need more paw's to catch prey!" He yowled "Sandkit, Brightkit, step foward." Our apprentice ceremony! He thought, flicking his tail with excitement.

"Sandkit, come foward." Sandkit stepped forward excitedly "Sandkit, you have reached the age of 6 moons, and you will now be known as Sandpaw. I will mentor you." He climbed down and touched noses with his new apprentice. Brightkit looked at his littermate the leaders apprentice? he thought with a pang of jealousy no, I should be proud of her! "Brightkit, come foward" Brightkit tried to hide his excitement "you have reached the age of 6 moons, and you will now be known as Brightpaw." He said "Shadowflight, pass on your loyalty and devotion to your new apprentice, Brightpaw" Brightpaw felt uneasy hearing his new mentors name .Shadowflight padded over to Brightpaw and touched noses with him. "Sandpaw! Brightpaw!Sandpaw!Brightpaw!"

Chapter 4

"Sandpaw! Brightpaw!" Brightpaw basked in the praise of his new name. He looked at Sandpaw, she was looking around, her tail twitching with excitement.
"Clan dismissed!" Snakestar yowled
Brightpaw looked over at his new mentor, although he wasn't too pleased that it was Shadowflight, that was the last thing he cared about. he was an apprentice! Shadowflight looked at the young tom "Its still early...I think I have time to show you around the territory" he mewed.

Brightpaw's ear twitched with excitement. I get to leave the camp!
"Well then, come on!"
"Wait!" Sandpaw called from across the clearing. She turned to her mentor
"Can we go with them?" She pleaded
"Alright" Snakestar sighed
Shadowflight padded out of camp, followed by Snakestar, Brightpaw and Sandpaw. Brightpaw was nervous about being so close to the leader but he shook it off. After all, he's just a cat too right? They showed them the sandy hollow, tallpines , twolegplace, the thunderpath, snakerocks and the great sycamore, all that was left was the riverclan border.

They approached the River that separates Thunderclan and Riverclan
"Over there is sunningrocks, Shadowflight said, pointing his nose at the rocks that they had fought so desperately for. In the corner of his eyes, Brightpaw saw something at the river is that a cat...in the river? The river was frozen, yet there was a fluffy silver tom in the water, he padded towards the water and crouched down. When suddenly he slipped.
"Brightpaw!"
He plunged into the water breaking the ice, falling deeper and deeper down the freezing water. He saw his mentor diving into the water to save him, but he couldn't do it. Shadowflight swam back up to the surface.

Brightpaw hit the bottom of the river is this it? He thought I'm going to drown as an apprentice? He saw the starry gray tom from before. He grabbed his scruff "This isn't your destiny, Brightpaw. You are meant to be RiverClans strongest warrior, not ThunderClans..."

This ones a bit wild hope y'all brought your snacks cus things are only gonna get more wild from here -Dawn

Chapter 5

Brightpaw opened his eyes as the putrid stench of herbs surrounded him, yet they smelled somewhat different than they normally did in ThunderClan, he looked around, and panic surged through him as he realized he was in the RiverClan medicine den. He whirled his head around in confusion. A small black she cat who was organizing herbs spotted him
"You're awake!" She gasped
He hissed and lashed his tail
"What am I doing here?!"

He tried to stand up, but an unbearable pain shot through his hindleg. He turned his head to look at it. Herbs wrapped around the wound.
"A patrol found you on our side of the river" the she cat explained
"You were unconscious and ingured, and Loststar insisted on taking you in!"

Brightpaw stiffened oh right... he thought I fell in the river! Pain shot through him as he remembered plunging into the cold, icy water
"My names Spiderpaw!" the young cat continued "My mentor, Lionfeather is talking to Loststar right now."

"I'm Brightpaw..." he mewed reluctantly
"You're an apprentice? You look like a kit!"
"I had just became an apprentice when I fell in the river..." he meowed, embarrassed
"Is that what happened? Stay here I'm gonna tell Lionfeather and Loststar that you woke up!" She meowed. She padded out of the den, leaving Brightpaw alone

What's going on? He thought dreadfully. His thoughts trailed back to that starry cat that had lured him into the river, and who had pulled him out of the river. was that a starclan cat? He thought why would a starclan cat lure me into the water, and drop me on RiverClans side of it, for starclans sake! His thoughts were interrupted by loud stomping from the entrance of the den

"Ah, so you're finally awake!" A large golden tom meowed, followed by Spiderpaw and Loststar.

Brightpaw looked at the riverclan leader cautiously, why did he want to take me to camp? He thought. The large tom nodded at him "Hello, young one" he meowed "what's your name?" He asked

"Brightpaw" he responded "why'd you take me to your camp instead of taking me back to ThunderClan" he hissed.
Loststar blinked at the young tom
"Starclan sent a prophecy about you..." he admitted "after the battle at sunningrocks, we spotted an odly colored mouse entering riverclan territory. It was black and white. Similar to your pelt, and also had an ingury on its leg." he explained "so I believe you're destined to be a riverclan warrior"

Brightpaw wanted to argue, but his words got caught in his throat a...a riverclan warrior? He thought. He didn't want to defy starclan, and maybe this was the reason the starclan tom had dropped him on riverclan territory. he felt a pang of guilt as he thought of his sister and his mom, but ignored if, after all, this was his destiny, right? Brightpaw flicked his tail uncomfortably "If it's what starclan wants then..."

Loststar smiled "very well." He climbed out of the den Lionfeather nuged Brightpaw out of his nest and lead him outside. He squinted his eyes at the bright pang of the sun. He turned his attention to Loststar as he leaped onto a tall rock in the center of camp

"Let all cats old enough to swim the currents, gather beneath the wet rock for a clan meeting. Unfamiliar cats rised out of their dens, and their curious gazes flew towards Brightpaw. His pelt turned hot with embarrassment.
"As most of you know, we found this ingured thunderclan apprentice on our territory. He will now train as a riverclan warrior, by the word of starclan!" He yowled. "Brightpaw, step forward." Brightpaw stepped forward nervously, feeling the riverclans cats hard gazes on him

"Brightpaw, while you are training in riverclan, you will no longer be Brightpaw, but you will be Echopaw!" he said "Your mentor will be Brookfern, Brookfern, you mentored Pricklecloud, who has turned into a fine warrior, I hope you will do the same for our new apprentice" he announced. A brown she cat padded towards him and gently touched noses with him. She smiled at him

"Clan Dismissed!"

This feels very rushed tbh maybe he should've been more persistent 💀
